Matters of Interest to the Fairest of Creation.

VALUABLE HINTS FOR HOME.

A Warning to Housekeepers—Woman's Many Works—To Make Cakes Light, Beauty in Watermelons—To Clean Linoleum—Other Interesting Matters.

Paris is the paradise of the dreamer; in that city there are more than 70,000 persons who make articles of women's dress, and 65,000 dressmakers along. It is estimated that the money earned yearly in this business is over $25,000,000.

Miss Ella Thallon, a Brooklyn woman, who is a large figure in athletics, she is well informed in such matters as the college men. The grounds of the college where she is running and jumping are performed are barred against masculine visitors.

Miss Shepard, daughter of ex-Governor Shepard, residing at Hainplass, Wash., situated in a large mountain, has a piano which was carried in sections over 400 miles on the backs of men and horses, being transported to her mountain home at a cost of $900.

Mrs. Emma Forsythe, an American lady who owns 160,000 acres of land in the South Sea Islands, is a successful business woman, employing several hundred natives as well as many Europeans on her plantation. She was left a widow at eighteen, with scarcely enough money to exist, but she has since amassed a large fortune. She has just contracted to build four vessels for land trade and the natives call her the "White Queen."

Mme. Christine Nilsson now lives at Madrid, where she has a most charming house, two rooms of which are uniquely decorated. Some cynic christened them "the Recorder's Dining Room," and this is the reason why: The walls of her bedroom are papered with leaves of music from the operas which Mme. Nilsson has sung and in the dining room is papered with hotel bills she has collected (and paid) during her journeys around the world.

Millinery and Economy.

It is an excellent plan to have a millinery box, a long, thin wooden or stout cardboard one with two or three trays, and into it put all the feathers, trimmings and odds and ends of ribbon taken from your out-of-date headgear, as you will save many a dollar by this plan. The mistake is to throw aside an old hat or bonnet with the trimming on it, instead of removing the latter at once, cleaning it and putting it out of dust's way into your millinery box.

To Make Cakes Light.

There are two or three things that must be observed if you wish to make a light cake. First, you must have the flour you use for it quite dry and the butter should be washed free from salt and all the water should be squeezed out of it before beating it to a cream. The yolks of the eggs should be beaten separately and the whites should be beaten to a stiff froth and put into the mixture the last thing before putting it in the oven. The tin should be well buttered.

Fifty Years of Courtship.

The longest courtship on record is probably that of Clemente Bingham, a shoemaker living at Laramie, Idaho. For nearly fifty years the course of true love ran smoothly enough between him and his innamorata, but somehow they could never bring themselves up to the sticking point, and Bingham's death occurred while the luckless lovers were yet leisurely making up their minds.

Found Beauty in Watermelons.

A South American woman is quoted as saying that some time ago, in the absence of water, of which there was a great dearth at the time, she washed her face with some of the juice of a watermelon. The result was so soothing that she repeatedly washed her face in this manner, and her astonishment was great, a few days later, on seeing that there was not a freckle left on her previously freckled face.

Cleaning Linoleum.

Linoleum floor covering may be made to look bright and new by rubbing it with equal parts of salad oil and vinegar. Rub thoroughly with a flannel cloth, and do not use too much of the mixture, nor allow any of it to remain on the floor. If the covering is very much soiled, clean the covering by wiping with a cloth wet with soap and water before using the oil and vinegar.

She'll Rule by Right.

"And why not? She will be the senior partner by at least ten years."—Detroit Free Press.

Hints for the Home.

Lamp-burners should be washed frequently and occasionally boiled in soda. Just accumulate on them so rapidly that a good light is an impossibility, if they are not clean.

Mildew may be removed from linen by the application on both sides of the linen of a brush wet with soft soap, powdered starch, pinch of salt and the juice of lemon. Leave the article on the grass twenty-four hours and if necessary, repeat the operation.

To purify a water-cooler, either porcelain or zinc lined, pour some vinegar on a clean cloth and wipe the inside of the cooler once or twice a week.

To clean silver forks and spoons: Immerse in boiling soda and polish them with clean cloths.

Linen is sometimes marked with indelible ink so skillfully as to resemble an etching; creases and letters of any size are done to order in this way.

WARNING TO HOUSEKEEPERS.

Fire Underwriters Ask that Great Care be Now Exercised.

The Fire Underwriters' Association has issued its annual circular to housekeepers, in which it says:

At this time of the year, when heating appliances are again put in operation, and when retail stores are preparing for the holiday trade, the co-operation of merchants and storekeepers in the efforts of the Philadelphia Fire Underwriters' Association toward a reduction in causes of fire is especially desirable. The regular periodical house-to-house inspection is now being made by this association, with the object of pointing out details where improvements can be made in the general condition of buildings in the business district.

Inspection of this association, who may be recognized by their official badge, are instructed to pay particular attention to the following: Disposal of ashes, the danger of placing ashes in wooden boxes in cellars and on stair landings; being careful not to use a chimney of stove and heater, stove-pipe, chimney and flues; arrangement of gas jets in proximity to inflammable material; general cleanliness and disposal of waste paper, refuse, sweepings and packing material; condition of fire buckets and other internal means provided for extinguishing fire in its incipient condition; condition of fire shutters, provided as a protection against possible fire in adjacent buildings, etc., etc.

New Fashions and Fancies.

Gold teeth and gold dentures are the fashion of the hour. The china is white and gold, the dentures are yellow, chrome-yellow or some other yellow, brown, the teeth and fangs to make them yellow, and if a dinner, the name cards

THE BUSY LIFE

Led by Justice Field Since His Thirteenth Year.

HE WILL BE EIGHTY YEARS OLD

On the Fourth of November—Appointed to the Bench by Lincoln—Some of His Notable Decisions—A Life Full of Incidents—Closing Years of a Great Jurist.

New York Times: The eightieth birthday anniversary of Justice Stephen Johnson Field, on November 4, will be observed informally at his home, in Washington. It is expected that all of his associates on the supreme court bench, his relatives, and a few of his intimate friends will be present.

The Rev. Henry M. Field of this city, the only remaining brother of the venerable justice, said yesterday that the gathering would not be in the nature of a celebration, but would be a simple reunion of those persons who have been closest to him in his long and active career.

Justice Field is in good health, and notwithstanding his age, his capacity for labor is unimpaired. He was so frail in infancy that his life was in jeopardy, but the temperate habits in which he was trained and the careful development of his mind during his youth have made him in his old age much more vigorous than the average man of sixty.

Since his thirteenth year, when he sailed for Smyrna with his sister, the wife of the Rev. Josiah Brewer, his life has been a life of activity. When he entered Williams College, in 1823, he was already a thorough Greek scholar, with knowledge also of Italian, French and Greek. He graduated in 1827, and began the study of law in the office of his brother, David Dudley Field, New York. He was admitted to the bar seven years, ending in 1838, a year later Mr. Field went to California, and soon took his first official position, that of Alameda of Marysville. Upon the organization of the state government, he was elected judge of the superior court of the state. Upon the death of Chief Justice Terry he became chief justice and filled that office until he left California.

Appointed Justice by Lincoln.

President Lincoln appointed Mr. Field the tenth justice of the United States supreme court in 1863, when Congress passed the law creating a new district on the Pacific coast. He took the oath of office May 20, 1863. Tennyson was then chief justice. The associate justices were: Wayne, Catron, Nelson, Grier, Clifford, Swayne, Miller and Davis. One of the first cases before the tribunal after Mr. Field took his seat was the famous Milligan case. Justice Field was one of the five justices who in this case declared the civil authority of the government to be paramount to the military.

In the "legal-tender" cases of war time, which are of special interest by reason of the present financial crisis, Justice Field stood with Chief Justice Chase against the constitutionality of the act of Congress, making the promises of the government a legal-tender for the payment of debts. Justice Field was a member of the supreme court had so decided, the financial uncertainty following the war would not have existed. He opposed the subsequent reversal of the decision.

Justice Field's rule of thought in the interpretation of the constitution, questions and the rule that has given rise to the chief popular discussion of his work on the bench, are summed up in the "record" of the family written by the Rev. Henry M. Field, his brother, as follows:

Idea that Guided Him.

First, the preservation from every interference, invasion by any one of all the powers and functions allotted to the national government and the state governments; and second, the perfect security and protection of private rights from all encroachments, either by the national States or by the individual States. These two ideas he steadily kept in view, and has made the basis of his decisions. He has demonstrated that a constant and firm maintenance of the powers justly belonging to the federal government is not incompatible with an equally firm holding of the powers entrusted to the states, with an undeviating adherence to the sacred doctrine of local self-government, and with zealous protection of private rights, because all, in fact, rest upon the same basis.

He dissented from the decision of the electoral commission in 1877, which awarded the presidency to Rutherford B. Hayes, as against Samuel J. Tilden. His opposition to the Republican policy of reconstruction after the war drew upon him the enmity of the whole country, and made him the candidate of a strong faction for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1880. He ascribes his defeat to the divisions in his own state.

RALLY AT MORGANTOWN.

A Great Demonstration in Honor of Congressman Dayton.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 30.—"The biggest political demonstration that has ever taken place in the Second district," was the comment on the big Republican blowout here to-day. Certainly nothing like it has ever been seen in Monongalia county. Fully 8,000 people participated in it. The town was not big enough to parade in and the parading was done in sections and lasted more than two hours. There were many visiting clubs, including 200 from McKeesport and big delegations from Uniontown, Brownsville and Point Marion, Pa. Every club in the county was out in full force and made the Monongalia valley ring with the music of their brass bands and martial bands and their shouts for McKinley and Dayton. The local committee entertained the crowd in good style. Speeches were made by Congressman Warren B. Hays, of Cow Run, Congressman A. G. Dayton, Mr. Alexander C. Wade and Mr. H. G. Ross, of New York. The speeches were given the most earnest attention and their pleas for the Republican cause were warmly received and given great applause. At night the speaking is still going on and a big part of the crowd still remains and the fires of sound money and protection are burning brightly.

Monongalia will give a rousing majority this year. The colored school committee say 1,200 will be the figure. A bigger one will not be surprising.

A GIRL'S RECOVERY.

Miss Lottie Penitentiary of Her Long Illness—The Story Should be Read by All Young Girls.

From the Democrat, Proport, Ills.: A popular young lady is Miss Lottie A. Penitentiary, who resides at 281 Charles avenue, Proport, Ills. She was engaged as a clerk in a large fruit market and grocery store for over a year, but had to resign her position on account of her poor health.

When she was fourteen years old she was troubled with irregularity of the menstrual periods and afterwards with entire suppression. She grew pale, sad and thin. Every trace of color left her face and even her lips were entirely impoverished. Her appetite was very poor and she could not sleep well.

When she arose in the morning she felt no more refreshed than when she retired at night. She was always tired and lost all ambition for everything.

She was also bothered almost constantly with the headache and a pain in her side and back. She would sometimes feel so weak she could scarcely walk. She had rheumatism in her lower limbs, and they were badly swollen, and her people were afraid she would have dropsy. She was treated by two of the best physicians in Proport, but without the slightest help.

One day her mother read about a case similar to her daughter's that was cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She told her daughter about them and said Lottie ought to try them because the doctors could not help her. So she procured the pills and before she had taken the first box she was very much improved, her appetite grew better and her sleep more refreshing. She continued to take the pills for six months. While taking the pills she gradually improved until she was entirely cured.

Now she is in robust health and she is no longer troubled with that tired feeling. She has no more headaches and the pain in her side is also gone. She has not felt any symptoms of rheumatism since she used the Pink Pills. Her complexion has lost that pale and sickly look and she has gained in weight. She is now in perfect health and feels better than she had for years before she used the pills. She feels confident that she owes her health and even her life to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She thinks it is perfect marvelous how well she now feels after all she suffered. She said: "I can heartily recommend the Pink Pills to anyone suffering as I did."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood, and restore shattered nerves. They are sold in six boxes (never in loose form), by the dozen or hundred at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or directly by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

A PARTICULAR MAN.

Wanted to be Dusted Off Before He was Drowned.

"You know Jones?"

"Why, yes; I know Jones, of course," quotes the New York World.

"Know what a particular man Jones is?"

"I always knew he was very neat and precise in his habits. But what of it?"

"Well, it's all right for a man to be neat, but, hang me, there is such a thing as carrying neatness too far."

"What's Jones been doing now?"

"You know, I came over with him on the Hibernian—got in last Saturday."

"Didn't know it. He usually comes you-on getting in safe. Heard the boat had a mighty rough passage."

"That's just the story. Only two days out when we had the worst storm I ever was in. It came at night. Passengers all scared to death. Thought we were going to the bottom each minute and we came precious near it. Boats were got ready. Somebody said there was a hole stove in the side. Turned out to be a fake, but it frightened us all the same. The men were fighting and the women praying, and every mother's son and daughter of 'em getting into a life-preserver."

"Well, and what's that got to do with Jones?"

"Oh, yes—Jones! Well, he took down a life preserver, looked at it and then called to the steward, 'Steward, that half-dressed fellow, poor devil—brought thought Jones didn't know how to fasten it on.' Steward, said Jones, 'here take this and dust it off for me; I can't wear it in its present condition.' Particular! Well, I should say so! A man that wants to be dusted off before he's drowned! Particular? Huh!"

UP TO TIME.

She Gave the Young Man Something to Grieve About.

There is a young journalist in New York who prides himself on his epigrams and repartees, says Harper's Bazar.

It is usually the occasion that prompts the remark, rather than the person in whom he addresses it. If it is a good one he remembers it and uses it in his business. Sometimes he gets as good as he sends and from the best-expected quarters.

The other day he rushed into a dairy lunch room, not far from Park row, to get a hot dog.

"Can I have two poached eggs on toast in a hurry?" he asked of the waitress, who was pretty enough to be stupid. He looked up at the clock as he spoke, and saw that there were no hands on it. So he added, jocosely: "It is later than I thought."

"In a hurry?" said the waitress, whose eyes followed his glance. "Why, you can have those eggs in time—by the clock."

"What's the matter with that clock, anyhow?" inquired the journalist. "Has it struck?"

"Oh, yes, it has struck lots of times," answered the waitress; "but this time it's a lock-out."

A lock-out, I don't quite understand," queried the newspaper man, puzzled for once.

"Say, but you're slow," said she; "don't you see they've laid off the hands?"

IN MINERAL COUNTY.

The Forces of Honest Money are Up and Doing—Plenty of Enthusiasm.

Piedmont, W. Va., Oct. 29.—The Mineral, Grant and Preston county delegation to the "shrine of Republicanism"—Canton, arrived home yesterday afternoon. They had seventeen coaches of enthusiastic men and women who were all delighted with their visit. The journey through West Virginia and Ohio is an object lesson as to how the people think—rather of public sentiment.

Mr. E. H. Sincell delivered the address for the visitors and Captain J. Forty Harrison was the chief marshal. The Gilbert Military band, and the St. Peter's band, both of Piedmont, furnished excellent music.

Mr. McKinley gave the address of the delegation as a whole in the shape of a pin with the McKinley home on it. A number of our delegation was pleasantly received at their home by "Mother" McKinley and daughters.
